HAPPY HOLIDAYS! Once again we move forward to the time of year for family and friends. Sharing food, gifts, spending time with loved ones. This will be my 17th Christmas selling sewing machines, which to me is more like selling fun, creativity and inspiration. Sewing a timeless tradition where so much love and kindness goes into the things we sew and give to our loved ones. I see young mothers and grandmothers carefully and lovingly preparing Christmas gifts they have made on their sewing machines. What a blessed business to be in. I've experienced many lovingly sewn gifts that mean so much to me. The quilt I cover up with at night and make with my bed each morning a beautiful quilt that was stitched with so much love and kindness by my friend Mary Whittington. So she is always close in my heart. The beautiful pillows and wall hangings I see as I walk through my house made by my friend Rosalee Sifford. Both these friends have moved hundreds of miles away, but I feel their love in my home from their very heart. Dolls my Mother made me years ago bless my bedroom. So this Christmas as you are stitching those gifts, always remember your loved ones will always think of you when they wear that dress, cover up with that quilt, or receive anything you have taken your time to create for someone you love you .

We truly appreciate your business, referrals, and loyalty much more than you could know!
Linda

This has been an exciting year for Sewing Machines Express. We added the Janome and Elna machines this year. And now excited to tell you we are adding 2,300 sq ft more. The wall on our north side is coming down. Our plans are to add fabric by the first of the year. Young girls and adults have been learning pattern making with Alex on Tuesday evenings. Alex started Fashion Institute of Missouri here several years ago.
